

15-714. Eligibility for training in use of bows or firearms

A. Training courses may be offered on a voluntary basis to all persons who have reached the age of ten years, but the game and fish commission may require any hunter whose hunting license has been revoked or suspended to show a certificate of completion of such training course as a condition to issuance or renewal of a license.

B. The courses held for students in the common schools and high schools shall be elective only, and attendance in such classes shall not be considered in computing a school district's student count.
